

COUNSEL NEAR FIGHT IN NEWBERRY PROBE

Senate Committee Checks Several Rows at Hearing of Ford's Contest.

EMERY NOT YET FOUND

Office Manager of Campaign Said by His Wife to Be "Somewhere in Canada."

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Working through two prolonged sessions, the Senate Committee hearing Henry Ford's contest for the seat of Senator Newberry of Michigan, today considered how far Senator Newberry was informed as to the expenditures in his 1918 campaign, abated one almost physical row and about forty minor ones between opposing counsel and revised the sick list among subpoenaed witnesses.

A neutral medical expert reported that Henry B. Joy, a Detroit capitalist, who helped finance the Newberry campaign, might be killed by excitement or exertion, and the demand for his attendance was dropped.

B. F. Emery, office manager for the Newberry campaign committee, was reported by his wife as "somewhere in Canada" when the investigation was sought him, and renewal of search was ordered after Senator Edge, Republican, New Jersey, commented that all the details of money handling as the witnesses developed them, "seem to be up to Emery."

His name came prominently into examination when Charles A. Floyd, the campaign secretary, was being quizzed by William Lucking of Ford counsel about checks for approximately $25,000 which he said were "reconciliation checks," matters of bookkeeping and arrangement and recording, but not duplicating expenditures.

"You've been living off Newberry and his friends down in Detroit ever since this campaign, haven't you?" Mr. Lucking demanded, and Judge Murfin, Newberry counsel, exclaimed that the question was "nauseating, dirty, common," and that the witness didn't have to answer.

"Aw," shut up, Lucking retorted, clearing for action. Chairman Spencer, after enforcing the rules, directed the witness to answer that the question and all its implication was "positively" untrue.

Paul H. King, Newberry campaign manager, was cross-examined by Lucking on the general question of Senator Newberry's familiarity with the campaign. He explained scores of communications passing between himself and the Senator, who was a naval officer held to his post in New York through the campaign fight, and their bearing on the campaign.

"I didn't take up the question of finances with him," he said to the reiterated questions, "because I knew John S. Newberry (the Senator's brother) was financing the campaign and that I was practically unlimited as to the expenditure."

ALIENS FORCED FROM MINES BY VIGILANTES

Two Counties Cleared; American Official Sent Away.

PRINCETON, Ind., June 11.—More than a hundred foreigners, employed in the coal fields of Gibson and Pike counties, were forced to leave by a crowd of alleged vigilantes last night and early today.

There was no bloodshed, so far as was learned. Francisco, eight miles east of Princeton, was the scene of most of the moving.

The action is said to have followed the importation of foreigners to work in the mines. W. E. Cox, superintendent of the Ayrshire District Collieries Company, an American, and his family also were forced to leave and told never to return.

One hundred foreigners employed on a railroad construction north of Oakland City also are leaving. Thirty automobile loads of vigilantes visited the region.

FOR BURIAL IN CAPITOL CRYPT.

Legion Post Suggests New Resting Place for Unknown Hero.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Burial of the body of an unknown American soldier who died on the battle fields of France in the crypt in the Capitol Building just north of the rotunda is to be urged at the executive committee of the American Legion at Indianapolis next Tuesday.

Resolutions favoring the placing of the body there instead of in the amphitheatre at the Arlington National Cemetery, as at first proposed, have been adopted by George Washington Post, No. 1, and the post's representative at the Indianapolis meeting will urge the plan.

MR. CLARK AND MRS. WILSON

Just Radiate Hospitality!

"Mr. Clark is in charge of the la carte dining room, while Mrs. Wilson supervises the American plan room. The next time you come over for dinner, Beatrice, I want you to watch how they make people feel at home."

"From the moment you step into the dining room, dear, you are taken in hand just as if you were a personal guest. And that's one of the things that make things at the Bristol so pleasant. These wonderful people place you at table and see that your order is properly taken and magnificently served, with such care that you almost imagine you are dining at some wonderful home."

"Of course you know, dear, about the Bristol meals—very one has been talking about their delicious 'homey' flavor and astonishingly low prices. The next time you come over for Mr. Clark or Mr. Wilson, who will be glad to show you how luxuriously and inexpensively you can live at this beautiful hotel."

Comfortable rooms, single and en suite, now renting on year-by-year basis, at moderate rates.

Dinner (dally) $1.00. Luncheon (Special Business Men's Luncheon $1.00).

NEGRO GIRL SHINES SHOES TO GAIN MUSICAL EDUCATION

Fries Other Work Before She Becomes Bootblack in Bryant Park, but Does Not Take In Enough to Assure Fruition of Ambition.

A girl bootblack has appeared in Bryant Park. Veteran bootblackers there say she is the first bootblack of her sex they ever saw. She says herself she is the first one in New York, but very likely contradiction will arise from some longer memory.

She is a negro girl, 17 years old. Her cerise straw bonnet began bobbing about the park three weeks ago. She carries the regulation box, swung over her shoulder by a strap. Her competitors are Greeks—boys and men. She says she doesn't get as many customers as they do, but during half an hour's observation yesterday afternoon she did very well. Men looking up from newspapers and seeing that the "Shine, sir?" came from a girl seemed rather taken with the idea. The polishing she gave the reporter's shoes was as good as the average.

She is blacking boots because she wants to be a violinist. There was nothing incongruous in this, as she explained it. Her name, she said, is Julia Hodge and she lives in West Fifty-third street. Her parents are dead. She is a graduate of St. Benedict's parochial school in West Fifty-third street. At 14 she tried working as a lady's maid but didn't like it. She then went into

TOBACCO RESOLUTION IS BEATEN BY SYNOD

Reformed Presbyterians Refuse to Bar Delegates.

PITTSBURGH, June 11.—A resolution prohibiting those persons who use tobacco attending as delegates to the ninety-second annual synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church of North America, in convention here, was defeated yesterday by a large vote.

The Rev. Dr. R. C. Wylie of Pittsburgh, in opposing the resolution, declared that those using tobacco "ought to attend the synod to learn better."

The resolution was presented to the delegates by the Rev. T. J. Allen of Beaver Falls, Pa.

SHRINE DEDICATED TO CLARA BARTON

Bordertown Schoolhouse Restored by School Children of New Jersey.

GOVERNOR A SPEAKER

Simple Ceremonies Honor Early Days of Founder of American Red Cross.

Special Dispatch to This New York Herald. BORDERTOWN, N. J., June 11.—The little red schoolhouse in which Clara Barton began to teach here in 1853, and from which she went forth upon a career of relief work which led to the establishment of the American Red Cross, was dedicated today as a shrine to her memory. Public officials and educators participated in the simple ceremonies at the old building, restored with money raised by the school children of the State.

The schoolhouse of red brick was built in 1839. After many years it fell into neglect and became little better than a hovel. Calvin N. Kendall, Commissioner of Education, began a movement to purchase the property and restore the schoolhouse to something closely resembling its original appearance inside and out. It is to become a museum for Red Cross relics.

The dedication ceremonies began with patriotic songs by school children. A flag presented by the Patriotic Sons of America was raised upon a new steel flagstaff. Five minute talks were made by Gov. Edward I. Edwards, Commissioner Kendall, Melvin A. Rice, president of the State Board of Education; Senator Blanchard H. White, Miss Minnie V. Flynn, Charles S. Albertson, William J. Bickett and others.

Mr. Arthur Jeffers represented the American Red Cross and received Clara Barton, a nephew, and Sallie F. Riccius, a grandniece of Clara Barton, Samuel Jacques, one of the few surviving pupils of Miss Barton, also was present.

Clara Barton left the school at Bordertown for a position in the Patent Office in Washington. There she began the relief work for war sufferers. After the civil war she went to Europe and administered to the wounded and dying on the battlefields of the Franco-Prussian War. She founded the American Red Cross as a national agency for relief work on May 21, 1881, and she served continuously as president of the organization until 1905. Miss Barton lived to be 90 years of age, dying at Glen Echo, Md., on April 12, 1912.

HANDICRAFT OF BLIND WILL BE EXHIBITED

Display Planned in Light-house for Next Saturday.

The blind will be at home to all their friends next Saturday from 2 to 5 P. M., at the Lighthouse for the Blind, 131 East Fifty-ninth street. Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls, elderly persons who never leave the Lighthouse, the middle aged who venture fearlessly into the world of the seeing, will exhibit specimens of their work and of the progress they have made in the last year. Work of all sorts, from simple basket weaving and crocheting to the elaborate basketry and exquisite weaving by loom, will be shown. An effort will be made to have present all persons who have contributed to the welfare of the institution.

In the Bourne Workshop, at 338 East Thirty-fifth street, blind men received more than $20,000 last year as wages. These workers were trained in the Lighthouse for the Blind. The present facilities of the institution and in seven similar institutions founded by Miss Winifred Holt in this country and Europe are inadequate. A committee for Lighthouses for the Blind, with President Harding as honorary chairman, has been formed and has taken up the task of raising $2,000,000. The honorary treasurer is Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury.

NEW 2 MEN ALTITUDE MARK MADE IN OHIO

Height of 34,150 Feet Is Reached at McCook Field.

A new world's record for two men was established May 6 at McCook Field, Dayton, O., according to a report published yesterday in the current issue of the Air Service News Letter.

Lieut. J. A. Macready, with Roy S. Langham as observer, drove a La Pere biplane to a height of 34,150 feet, about 800 feet higher than that established by Major Schroeder. The plane used was the same in which Major Schroeder made the present one-man altitude record and the two-man record. The instruments have not yet been examined by the Bureau of Standards, so Macready's feat is not yet claimed officially as a record.

Extreme cold was encountered in the upward dash of about six and a half miles. Lieut. Macready's goggles were frosted, and when he removed his left glove to attempt to wipe the ice away his hand became so stiff he was unable to use it until warmer altitudes were reached on the downward slide. The engine, a 400 horse-power Liberty, equipped with supercharger, delivered power satisfactorily at the top of the climb.

PASSENGER RECORD ESTABLISHED BY LINERS

Three Ships to Sail With Saloon Quarters Filled.

A new record for saloon passengers sailing for Europe will be established on Tuesday and Wednesday when within twenty-five hours of each other the Cunard liners Aquitania, Mauretania and Carmania sail, with first class quarters filled to capacity.

In all a total of 1,500 cabin passengers will sail. The Aquitania, which sails Tuesday, will take 775 passengers, and the Mauretania and Carmania, sailing the next day, 515 and 319 respectively. The individual ship record for cabin passengers is held by the Berengaria, formerly the Imperator, which once carried more than 800.

GUN INCIDENT INVESTIGATED.

Revenue Agent's Action on Pier Subject of Inquiry.

An investigation of the action of R. McCarver, Internal Revenue Agent and a member of the narcotic squad, in drawing a gun during an argument on the Cunard pier Friday night, was begun yesterday by the Surveyor's office, H. C. Stuart, Special Deputy Collector, said yesterday.

McCarver, witnesses say, pointed his revolver at Deputy Surveyor Alexander McKee, in charge of the customs force on the pier, during a heated discussion as to whether a friend of McCarver's was to have a customs stamp placed on his binocular case before leaving the pier.

HELD AS SLAYER OF WOMAN.

Henry Brown, negro, 21 West 132d street, who is said by the police to have confessed to killing Mrs. Hannah Blaustein in her home, 1053 Morris avenue, The Bronx, last Monday, was held without bail in the Morrisania Court yesterday. He will have a hearing on June 15.

SNEEZE BETRAYS MAN SOUGHT BY POLICE

Alleged Robber Found Rolled in Blanket Under Bed.

Detectives John Hughes and Daniel Bellow of the East Fifty-first street station went to the home of Thomas A. Kennedy in 885 Second avenue yesterday to arrest him on suspicion of having been implicated in the attempted robbery of the tailor shop of Harry Hoffman, in 200 East Forty-sixth street, on May 27.

The detectives could find no trace of Kennedy and were about to leave the house when they heard a sneeze from under the bed. They looked, and found the man rolled up in a white blanket projecting. He was taken to the police station, and later arraigned in Yorkville court, where he was held in $1,500 bail for a hearing on June 14.
